

Imre Fazekas

He completed his secondary and tertiary studies in Pécs (SW Hungary). Teacher in Biology, Agriculture and Environmental Sciences (University of Pécs). He started working in the museum in the 1970's and later became a Museum Director.

He has described taxa new to science from the Palearctic, and made the first records of many species from Hungary. To date, nearly 300 scientific publications have been published in Hungarian and other European journals.

A new book about the Hungarian Geometridae fauna.

Released August 2020.

Inquiry and order: fazekas@outlook.com

For each species photographs of male und female genitalia, colour photographs of adults, and distribution maps for Hungary.

For all species photographs of male and female genitalia, colour photographs of adults, and distribution maps for Hungary.

For all species key to identifications, diagnosis, phenology, biology, habitats.